RECORD PRIMARY VOTE SEEN TUESDAY, JUNE 3

CITY HIRES ENGINEER; GRANTS USE PERMITS; HEARS FIRST READING OF GARBAGE ORDINANCE; GIVES ADVICE

Campbell City Council Monday night hired a city engineer, adopted a resolution of protest of San Jose annexation, heard first reading of a garbage ordinance, granted three use permits and advised a delegation from Coral Manor concerning an ungraded traffic hazard.

Council voted to hire Mark Thomas, San Jose engineer as Campbell City Engineer with a retainer fee of $100 a month. His first duties include a study of a tentative plan for a subdivision at Hamilton Ave. and San Jose-Los Gatos Road. Thomas also will advise representatives of Eichler Homes who appeared Monday for City requirements on width and paving of streets in subdivisions.

First reading was given a garbage ordinance which permits the Council to negotiate with a scavenger firm for garbage removal.

The ordinance specifies that a contract can be let to the best qualified firm without competitive bidding. It sets up maximum rates to be charged consumers, including $1.50 a month for each household where two collections a week are required and the following monthly rates for office buildings:

One collection a week, 75 cents; two collections, $1.50; three collections, $2.25; six collections, $4.50. Rates were also established for apartment house and industrial uses.

Council granted three conditional use permits to Campbell residents.

Stella Cane was granted a permit to operate a nursing home at 230 S. Winchester Road to be effective when Mrs. Cane gets the approval of the proper State authorities. Permit is also subject to provision of off street parking for at least three cars and any sign to be erected must be approved by the council. Mrs. Cane said she expects to have a maximum of five patients. Her attorney, Martin S. Walsh, submitted a signed list of neighbors who had no objections to the nursing home.

Wenzell D. Bee was granted a use permit to operate a used furniture and appliance store in the old Campbell Firehouse on Campbell Ave., recently remodeled.

Joseph Di Caro was granted a use permit to build two stores at Campbell Ave. near Railroad Ave., subject to the city engineer's determination of sidewalk width to be required.

A delegation from Coral Manor subdivision appeared to ask the Council to close the intersection at that point where a temporary ungraded access road has created a traffic hazard. The temporary road has also become a testing ground for hot rods and is dangerous to traffic because not properly banked. Spokesman was J. E. Hoover.

APPLICATIONS NOW ACCEPTED FOR SCHOLARSHIP

Applications for the Winifred Goodell Scholarship are being received now in the office of Miss Neilson, dean of women at Campbell Union High School. Any girl interested in continuing her education or training as a nurse, in beauty or business school or other vocational field should check with Miss Neilson immediately. This scholarship will be presented at commencement in memory of Winifred Goodell the charter president of Campbell Business and Professional Women's Club. It is the hope of this group to make this an annual gift to a girl of promise with sincere purpose rather than on scholastic attainment alone.

House To House Campaign Set For Bond Issue

Plans for a house to house campaign on Campbell Union School District's June 10 bond election have been worked out for the Moorpark area by a committee made up of Mrs. Frank Cope, Mrs. Hugh Findley and Mrs. Vincent Gorman.

Mrs. Gorman, heading the area committee says a corps of workers will conduct a house-to-house campaign, provide transportation and even baby sitting services for voters unable to get to the polls.

The bond issue of $600,000 will, if approved be used to add 19 classrooms to Campbell's new schools. The district, now on double sessions is expected to fill new schools to capacity during the next school year. Recent surveys of pre-school population show a further 600 enrollment increase will come in the following year, making the current building program in adequate.

Fellowship Club To Hold Retreat

Pilgrim Fellowship, the high school group of the Congregational Church, will leave Campbell Saturday morning at 8:45 for Hudart Park at Woodside for a two-day combined study and recreational retreat, under the leadership of Gordon and Sally Miller. This will be the regular semi-annual retreat of the Fellowship group, which will plan its future program at this time.

Highlight of the retreat will be the communion service to be held Saturday night. The young people will return home Sunday.

ALLEN WINDS UP CAMPAIGN

Bruce F. Allen, 29th district assembly candidate, winds up his last week of campaigning with a half dozen public talks and door-to-door visits from now until primary election day, June 3.

Monday noon Allen will address the Los Gatos Real Estate Board and in the evening the San Jose Republican Assembly. On Tuesday he speaks to the San Jose Lions luncheon and the Gilroy Optimist club dinner that evening. Wednesday he speaks to the Burbank Lions luncheon and on Thursday noon the Shrine Club at the De Anza Hotel. At 5:55 p.m. Thursday he speaks over Station KEEN.

Grange Adopts Resolution To Safeguard Dam

In a public affairs section of Orchard City Grange last Tuesday a resolution was adopted by the grange asking the board of supervisors to pass an ordinance prohibiting any more removal of gravel from the vicinity of the Page Dam on Los Gatos Creek.

Fear was expressed that too many orchards will be eliminated by subdivisions but it was pointed out that although many prune orchards are giving way to homes there are still 52 percent of the prunes raised are not marketed or used.

The meeting was presided over by acting master Jessie McChesney hosting visiting dignitaries Walter Mellott, master of Almaden Grange, Mrs. Gertrude Melech, Pomona Home Economics chairman. There were nine visitors present.

Harry Barnes in his agriculture report told of his visit to an etimology experimental station in Texas. The experiments are being conducted on blow flies that infest Florida. They sterilize the flies they want to eliminate—then turn them loose and let them exterminate themselves, according to the report.

Lambert Skillman reported that weeds and grass on the lot at Fourth and Sanford have been burned, and being made ready for parking rental to nearby merchants.

Sunday, June 29 a Grange Memorial service will be held at Santa Clara City Cemetery for Evan T. Pettit, a long time Grange master who lived to be over 100 years old.

Mark Purmort was elected overseer to fill the vacancy left by Wesley Youngclaus who recently resigned and moved away.

Lecture program arranged by Mrs. Lucille Hoerler included a talk of Grange Credit Union and reasons for joining by Mrs. A. M. Kambish of Almaden. A dramatic skit about "Distinguished Relatives" put on by the following personnel: Mrs. Malissa Smith, Mrs. Ora Lear, Mrs. Virginia Rutherford, Mrs. Bessie Merrill and Mrs. Flora Raab. The program ended with a barber shop quartette from Almaden known as the "Wobbly Warblers" made up of Ed George, R. Tonkin, Walter Mellott and A. M. Kambish.

Refreshments were under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Locke, Mrs. Ivy Rost, G. Blomquist.

$100,000 REST HOME TO HOLD OPEN HOUSE THIS SUNDAY IN LOS GATOS

Open house will be held from 1 to 7 p.m. Sunday, June 1, at the $100,000 addition to the rest home at 94 Hernandez Avenue, Los Gatos, according to Mrs. Ralph J. (Georgya) Ash, operator.

Entrance may be gained from the rest home's private street at 676 West Parr Avenue, between Campbell and Vasona Junction.

Ever-increasing business ove the last five years has demandec the addition, says Mrs. Ash.

A corporation composed of Los Gatos business men was formed, with Mrs. Ash as president, which purchased five acres of land off West Parr Avenue, in the vicinity of Vasona Junction, adjacent to the site of the proposed West Valley Hospital.

The main building, a one-story cement brick structure, will be surrounded by orchard, according to Sobey and Green, builders. The general contractor was Ray Brant.

The building has radiant heat in the cement slab floor and has insulated ceilings. Papered and painted walls throughout, combined with all new metal furniture and drapes lend an atmosphere of charm and restful comfort.

Electric dish washers, clothes washers and dryers, electric call system and the latest sanitary devices for convalescent care are incorporated in the new building.

The home has present accomodations for 28 patients, including an isolation room and one ward for five patients.

WALT PHILLIPS TO CONDUCT SAFETY CLASSES

Los Gatos chief of Police, Walt Phillips, is presently conducting a series of talks to four senior high school classes at Los Gatos High School in conjunction with High School safety instructor Joseph Lyons in highway safety.

Phillip's talks will deal with traffic problems faced by motorists and pedestrians alike in an attempt to cut down accidents in volving younger drivers.

Phillips will illustrate his lectures with graphic pictures of automobile accidents and will try to impress on his audience rules for preventing them.

Other matters taken up in the talks wil concern the vehicle code and other subjects pertaining to safer driving.

LOCAL JUSTICE ENDORSES CRAWFORD FOR CAMPBELL AREA JUDGESHIP

In a letter to the Campbell Press, Martin S. Walsh, Justice of the Peace with Campbell law offices at 200 E. Campbell Avenue, and offices in San Jose, endorses the candidacy of Paul W. Crawford for Justice of the Peace of the new judicial district of the west side with the following statements

"Editor:

A primary requisite of the Judge who will preside over the court of the new Judicial District of the west side will be a knowledge of the law. Judge Crawford of Saratoga Township possesses such knowledge and is well-qualified from experience and actual practice of the law to handle the matters of the Judicial District in a capable and efficient manner.

Judge Crawford has presided in the Campbell township court on various occasions wherein I was unable to act due to former client-attorney relationship, and in those cases I had a first hand opportunity to observe him and I can assure the voters of this community that he is fully qualified to serve as the Judge of the new district.

Very truly yours,
MARTIN S. WALSH

SCHOOL DISTRICTS PROTEST SAN JOSE PROPOSED WILLOW GLEN ANNEXATION

Board of Trustees of Cambrian School District and the Cambrian Men's Club emphatically opposed proposed annexation of Willow Glen No. 10 in letters to San Jose City Council. Letters were also received by Campbell City Council Monday night backing any action the Mayor would take to oppose the annexation. Council agreed to draft a formal letter of protest on the grounds that the proposed territory to be annexed lies within the three-mile limit of the city of Campbell. Incorporated in the protest will be some of the objections voiced by the school districts.

These objections include:

1. It would encircle Cambrian School No. 2 at the intersection of Foxworthy and Ross Ave., the site for which was purchased nearly two years ago.

2. It would destroy four years of school house planning by the board.

3. It would disrupt the financing of school house construction in the district by interfering with the board's current negotiations with the State Department of Education and the State Department of Finance.

4. It would result in the district's loss to San Jose of the assessed valuation of the area, thereby crippling the operation of Cambrian Elementary School, No. 1.

5. It would destroy the faith of the people of the district who have voted bonds for master school building, and also jeopardize the building plan itself.

6. The district has already indebted itself for $28,000 in busses to provide transportation for the area, and the annexation would require the city of San Jose to assume responsibility for transporting pupils.

7. The annexation would disrupt plans for Campbell High School No. 2 resulting "in a serious blow to our community."

Annexation of South Willow Glen No. 10 to San Jose is sought by a group of subdividers under the uninhabited territory act. It consists of approximately 400 acres and would extend San Jose's southern boundary to a point contiguous to Cambrian Park. City Council has set June 9 for a public hearing on the proposal.

Praises Work Of Paul W. Crawford

Chris Bronzich, Saratoga constable, endorses Paul W. Crawford for Justice of the Peace of Campbell-Los Gatos-Saratoga area with the following statement:

"To my many friends in Saratoga-Los Gatos-Campbell area: The law enforcement is no better than its courts. Therefore, I am endorsing Paul W. Crawford for Justice of the Peace of Campbell-Los Gatos-Saratoga area as a man whom I know, after working with him for two years, to be experienced, honest and efficient. His 30 years knowledge of law has made him in my opinion as the man to elect for Justice of the Peace of the combined township.

Chris Bronzich

Bart Collins Detective Chief, Addresses Lions

Bart Collins, chief of detectives San Jose Police Department, spoke before the Campbell Lion's Club last Tuesday on the incidence of crime in the Santa Clara Valley and of the good work of the police department in combatting it.

"Santa Clara valley has a disadvantage in that it lies between San Francisco and Los Angeles," said Collins, "which makes it a stop for the transcient criminal element."

"About the time they reach San Jose or the surrounding area these transcients run out of money which make various commercial concerns tempting bait." Collins said.

So far Collins said the police and detective agencies have been successful in combatting it to such an extent that there is no major crime danger in the area, but it requires vigilant work to keep the threat under control.

SPOKESMAN ARGUES FOR PASSAGE OF CAMPPBELL DISTRICT SCHOOL BOND

On June 10, voters of Campbell Union School District ballot on a $600,000 school bond issue.

Campbell's current state-financed building program will take the district off double sessions—no more, according to William C. Henley, district superintendent. He said, "In determining needs of local districts for financial apportionments, the state used enrollment figures of October, 1951. For an area like Campbell, such figures are quickly out of date."

figures for Campbell ar

Although population figures for Campbell are not listed, the telephone company reports a far greater percentage in the last ten years than for any exchange in the Northern California district. This indicates even more when one realizes the Northern California district is one of the fastest growing in the entire nation.

Postoffice reports show the same. From 1932 to 1942, cash receipts for the single month of January increased only $100. From 1942 to 1952, the increased about $4,000. In 1942, carriers made 625 stops, serving about 3,500 people. In 1952, they were making 3,415 stops, serving about 20,000 people.

In trying to cope with the rapid population increase, the schools have been continually bursting at the seams, Henley said. Eight years ago, there were 1,000 students and 35 teachers in the elementary system. Two new schools, Moorpark and San Tomas, were built to take care of rising enrollments. Since then, more classrooms have been added to them and further additions made to the Campbell school. Last fall the district ran behind and was forced on double sessions. There are now 3,100 pupils in the system and 103 certified personnel, Henley pointed out.

To get a clearer picture of future needs for school buildings, a group of administrators and teachers, working under university guidance, recently made a "baby count" of the district. The results, which tally with a study made for the high school area by Stanford University, show a pre-school population of 4,180. This means elementary enrollment will reach 7280 in five years even if no more families move into the district.

In 1953-54, the district school population is expected to increase by 600, making 19 more classrooms necessary. The June 10 bond issue is an attempt to keep even with the growth of the area. If approved, it will provide money to add classrooms to new buildings and build a new school on the Hazelwood site.

Henley said that there would be no tax increase for 1952-53. In 1953-54, the increase will be about 10½c per $100 assessed valuation, or about $3.25 for the average home owner.

Mrs. D. Winston Feted By Family

"Orchids to Jean" betokened the sentiments of the family of Mrs. Donald Winston (Jean Smith) when she was given a surprise buffet dinner by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Smith of Buena Vista Avenue, Los Gatos, on May 18. The family affair was held in the guest house at the Smith home, as an affectionate farewell to Mrs. Winston, who will sail on the Scandinavian ship "Fernland" May 31. for Tachikawa to join her sergeant husband there.

Mrs. George W. Smith also received orchids from her husband as a tribute on the occasion, which was the Smiths' 48th wedding anniversary.

A beautiful "bon voyage" cake, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Smith of San Mateo, aunt and uncle of Mrs. Winston, further expressed the good wishes of the family, and other gifts were presented to the young traveller. Bidding her godspeed were her host and hostess; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Smith Jr., her grandmother, Mrs. Ann Pardee, and her brother, Stanley Smith, all of Campbell; Charles Gass of Stockton; Miss Donna Phillips of Santa Clara; Mrs. Kleiner of Los Gatos; Mrs. Frederick Tait, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Smith and Mrs. Henry C. Cruz, all of San Mateo.

On May 19 Mrs. Winston and her mother visited at the homes of twelve relatives on the peninsula and had lunch at the Stanley Smiths' residence in San Mateo.

A gala tour of San Francisco was provided for Mrs. Winston and Mrs. George Smith on May 26 by Mrs. Claire Krieg and Mrs. Viola Davis. Breakfast and lunch were festively partaken at the St. Francis and Mark Hopkins hotels.

Mrs. Ann Pardee entertained at her Sunny Oaks Avenue home on May 21, in honor of her granddaughter. Together to share a sumptuous chicken dinner and to fete Mrs. Winston were Mrs. Pardee, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. George Smith Jr., Stanley Smith, Donna Phillips, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Winston, parents of Sgt. Donald K. Winston.

The honoree of these and other farewell parties will leave today, accompanied by her mother, on the Del Monte Express for Glendale, where they will visit with relatives until Mrs. Winston's sailing date.

The average 5-room house exerts a constant pressure of 50,000 lbs. upon its foundation. For this reason, many architects specify rot- and termite resistant CZC pressure-treated foundation lumber. The added building cost is about one percent.

Country Women Hear Talk, Music

The Country Woman's Club of Campbell was entertained at a meeting on May 19 by Mrs. Elizabeth Singletary, County Librarian, who gave an interesting talk on several recently published books, particularly those on Californians. The Boys' Glee Club of the Campbell Grammar School, directed by Mr. Ben Zeigler, followed Mrs. Singletary's discussion with a presentation of three numbers. Mrs. Katherine Fuller Sorensen also delighted the club with a flute solo, accompanied by Mrs. Edith Eagan.

Mrs. L. J. Benson, president, presided at the business meeting. Mrs. Vernon Suess reported on the convention of the Federation of Women's Clubs held earlier this month in San Jose. Mrs. Rex K. Fuller was chairman of the afternoon, assisted by Mesdames Lloyd Selig, E. C. Price and J. R. Locke.

PRESS ENDORSES CRAWFORD, KIRBY, SMITH

PAUL CRAWFORD AS JUSTICE OF PEACE IS BACKED BY 30 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

For Justice of the Peace of the Campbell-Los Gatos-Saratoga district, the Campbell Press endorses Paul W. Crawford, present Justice of Saratoga Township.

We feel that Campbell, an incorporated city, should employ the best talent available for administration of our local court. A good start has been made in this direction by our choice of city council.

They comprise the executive and legislative authority. We are faced with the next step; selection of our judicial authority.

It is our considered opinion that Paul W. Crawford is well qualified for this position with over 30 year's successful practice of law. He has served as assistant district attorney and county attorney. He has been admitted to practice in federal courts, the U. S. Supreme court, General Land Office, Treasury Department and U. S. Board of Tax Appeals.

His non-legal record includes continuous membership in the American Legion since 1919, for which he was Department Judge Advocate in the State of Colorado and State chef de Gare (Commander) of the Forty and Eighth.

He has been president of the Saratoga Chamber of Commerce and is a member of the Saratoga Lions Club and the Santa Clara Shrine Club.

We base our recommendation upon the assurance by Mr. Crawford that, if possible, he will rotate his court between Campbell, Los Gatos and Saratoga in oredr that it will be equally accessible to all the people of this area.

We feel that the people of Campbell will make a wise choice by voting for Paul W. Crawford in the primary election on June 3.

Allen Winds Up Local Speeches

Bruce F. Allen, 29th district assembly candidate, told two meetings in Gilroy last evening (May 21) that he will work in Sacramento for speedy widening of the three-lane Monterey highway "death trap".

"Speaking before the Gilroy Elks traffic safety meeting and also before the Gilroy Business and Professional Women's Club, Allen deplored recent claims that accidents were fewer on this highway than other section of the state system.

"Such statements don't tell the real fact that more of the Monterey highway accidents are of the fatal, head-on type," Allen said. "The road between Morgan Hill and San Jose is the only three-lane stretch on the entire coast highway between San Francisco and Los Angeles. Fatalities occur when motorists come into it unaware of its dangers, after driving on four-lane stretches north and south of it.

"Whether a free-way by-passes it sometime in the future or not," Allen added, "if is taking lives now. The cost of widening is relatively moderate and we'll need it four-laned even after the free-way is built because of the growth of traffic in and through this county."

Allen declared the state has no major highway improvements going on in the county at the present time and the Monterey highway widening is one of several projects needing immediate state attention because of the increasing coast traffic which funnels through this county to and from San Francisco and east bay areas.

PRESS ENDORSES KIRBY PLATFORM FOR SUPERIOR COURT JUDGE POSITION

For the Superior Court judgeship, the Campbell Press endorses Attorney David C. Kirby, candidate in the June Third election.

This endorsement is based on his age and experience, as opposed to present Judge James, who has held the judgeship for 19 years.

In his talk to Campbell area residents last week at the home of Jerry M. O'Brien, 600 Orchard Street, Kirby opposed the re-election of Judge James for the following reasons:

At 80, James is not able to give the office the hard work necessary and he does not offer the potential of service to voters that a younger man does.

Because the 1950-51 grand jury, in its final report, made personal criticism of James, he refused to impanel a new grand jury. He dismissed the last one over four months ago, which means that Santa Clara county has been without the only official body which insures the rectitude of public administrators, since January.

The cases in the juvenile and criminal court calendars, and the naturalization calendar, are generally uncontested and consume relatively little court time. It is not necessary that a judge occupy himself exclusively with these matters, as is now done by Judge James.

Kirby, 43, has been a practicing attorney in San Jose for 19 years. A native Californian, Kirby received his education in Santa Clara county schools, including San Jose State and U. of Santa Clara where he received his law degree in 1933.

Besides his law practice Kirby has been active in many county service clubs and philanthropic projects.

Platform Released By Kirkwood For Assembly Race

Robert C. Kirkwood, incumbent Assemblyman from the 28th District, who seeks re-election at the June 3rd Primary, today released the platform on which he is standing.

"Above everything else," Kirkwood stated, "I have sought both in the Legislature and through activities here in the county to strengthen local government to the point where it can assume complete responsibility for more of the essential governmental functions. Many of these functions have been established or expanded under the prod of Federal and State subsidies and grants in aid and remain subject to State or Federal regulation. I believe that wherever possible, governmental programs should be maintained at the local level and with a minimum interference and support by higher levels of government. If programs cannot stand scrutiny at the local level they are often non-essential and can be abolished.

"I am currently engaged in three interim committee studies: (1) the feasibility of state and local operation of the Central Valley Project and other water and power resources; (2) the efficiency and adequacy of the present welfare programs and their administrations; (3) the needs of our program of public education. I promise to follow up these studies with action at the next session.

"I have consistently worked for honesty and efficiency, not only in the executive branch of our government, but in the legislative branch as well. As a recently elected member of the Assembly Rules Committee, I am working on measures to make that body more readily responsive to public opinion.

"At the last session of the Legislature I was the author of a bill which provided an increase, averaging about 12%, in the amount of state assistance to our local school districts. This will mean $150,000 of increased support to the San Jose School District alone, and proportionately even more to the poorer districts. I promise to continue in the future to work for programs which will provide a good education to all of the children in this district without imposing an inequitable tax burden on any of our citizens.

"My persistent efforts have been rewarded by the present construction of a new section of freeway between San Jose and the Alameda County line, thus eliminating the most inadequate stretch of major highway in the county and providing the canning industry of Santa Clara County with a lifeline to the agricultural areas of the Central Valley, which lifeline is more than ever needed now that our own agriculture is being replaced by residential developments I will continue to work for th improvement of other highways in my district.

"I promise to work for rigid economics in government, for it is only through such economies that we can hope to adjust and expand our governmental operations to meet the changing needs of our community and state."

Kirkwood is seeking election to his fourth term in the Assembly. A native of Mountain View, Kirkwood, now 42, has resided for the past 12 years at Saratoga. He and his wife, Jean, are active in many charitable and community organizations. They have four children.

American Legion Sees Movie At Regular Meeting

Following the regular meeting of Campbell Post 596, Wednesday last a motion picture was shown entitled "In our Hands."

The picture was depicted information about disabled veterans that every veteran and citizen should know, according to G. W. Smith, adjutant.

Following the movie refreshments were served.

SMITH PLATFORM STRESSES FRIENDLY, FULL TIME, IMPARTIAL REPRESENTATION

Albert B. Smith, agriculture instructor at Campbell High School for the past seven years and part-time orchardist with his father Stanley B. Smith is backed by the Campbell Press for supervisor from the fifth district.

The Press sincerely believes Smith's statements of candidacy to be honest, and that his promises will be faithfully fulfilled, and urges its readers to vote for Albert B. Smith for Supervisor from the fifth district.

Smith promises equal representation of all parts of the fifth district in the county government and full time devotion to duties.

As a resident of the unincorporated area, Smith says he has no allegiance to any of the four incorporated cities and therefore would be able to represent all residents of the fifth district impartially.

Smith is an advocate of a County flood program. As each new street or subdivision is created, a new problem in storm water drainage arises.

"Past experience has shown that this problem must be attacked immediately with a long-range solution in mind," he said.

Smith promises if elected to be available to every Fifth District resident to serve as a friendly consultant and representative on county government.

Smith, 31, was born and raised on his home ranch at Vasona Junction near Los Gatos. He attended Campbell schools and was graduated from California Polytechnic College with a B. S. in agricultural education. He did graduate work at the University of California, at Davis and San Jose State College.

He is a member of the Campbell Rotary Club, Orchard City Grange, and Santa Clara County Agricultural Round Table.

GUBSER URGES RETURN OF LOCALIZED RULE

Charles S. Gubser, candidate for congress, told two Mountain View meetings yesterday that he stands for "truly humanitarian government serving the real needs of its citizens.

"We must work for the continued development of every social gain we have steadily made in government over fifty years," Gubser told the Mountain View Kiwanis and Lions clubs. "But I think the next stage in the progressive evolution of these gains lies in the thorough-going recognition of government itself.

"What good does it do to promise a higher pension here or a special group preferment there when the values of those benefits is crushed out between the declining value of the dollar and ever-rising taxes.

"Don't forget that it is the man on fixed income, the wage-earner, the ultimate consumer who finally pays the taxes. He is the last man on the totem pole when tax costs are handed down. The English have discovered this hard economic fact in their past 15 years of socialization. Taxes there have increased 6½ times on income of less than $2500 and only 1½ times on incomes over that amount.

"Deficit spending by federal government is a primary cause of the declining value of the dollar," Gubser added. "At the same time mounting taxes support an overblown, confused bureaucracy, competing with and crushing productive private initiative. Our urgent defense needs demand an end to these extravagances. Government services must be brought back to the most local control possible, where services can be directly evaluated and our tax dollars are not worn away on their long roll through many hands to and from Washington."

DAVID C. KIRBY FAMILY LIVE BUSY, HAPPY LIVES WORKING TOGETHER

Five happy, busy people and one very small dachsund make up the typically American household of the David C. Kirby family in Los Gatos.

There's Catherine, 15, slim, tall, with brown hair and eyes, and the poise of a young girl growing into womanhood. John, at 13, is very much troubled with a voice◈ that "cracks" on him, like Henry Aldridge, and legs that are growing so fast that he almost equals his father's six feet. Like his sisters, he has dark brown eyes and a friendly grin. Youngest of the family, 12-year old Julie has a pixie smile, quick lithe movements, and naturally wavy blonde hair that's always getting into her eyes.

Ruth Sandkuhle Kirby, mother of this fine threesome, is tall, blonde, attractive, with a bright smile and friendly blue-green eyes, set off by her tanned skin, acquired from many days of gardening.

Proud father, head of the household, David C. Kirby, leads a busy life as a practicing attorney in San Jose, but he still finds time to participate in many civic and welfare projects. At present, he is deep in a political campaign as a candidate for the Superior Court judgeship in the June 3 race.

Last, but very important, is "Susy", a 3-year old dachsund with soft brown coat and wiggly tail, the family's pet and playmate.

Cooperation is the keynote to the good humor and cheerfulness of the Kirby's, the welfare of the family as a group being of first importance.

A typical day in the Kirby home begins with the jangling of Catherine's alarm at 5:30 a.m. She starts her piano practice at 6, eats a quick breakfast an hour later, and at 7:15 is off to school. Julie makes the coffee every morning when she gets up, then helps her mother with breakfast or makes the lunch to take with her. (Since part of her alowance is used for school lunches, she can stretch her money by taking one from home.) John usually has to be called several times until, finally, after the last luxurious stretch, he tumbles into his clothes, works vigorously through breakfast, and makes a mad dash for the 7:40 bus. Julie leaves more quietly at 8:15.

In between the children's goodbyes, David Kirby eats breakfast, reads the morning paper, and is off to his office.

Most of the day is spent by Mrs. Kirby out-of-doors, working in her garden. All together, the Kirby's own four acres of land on Orioel Road in Los Gatos, all of it with heavy undergrowth, which they have cleared themselves. While they were building their present home, which they moved in last December, they lived in a small cottage near the house.

After working in her garden most of the day, Mrs. Korby likes to relax by sewing or playing the piano. She uses a special room downstairs, adjacent to the laundry, for making her daughter's dresses. "That way I can have my sewing in one place, without cluttering the house," she says. Music was one of her chief interests at San Jose State College, where she met her husband 19 years ago, and she still enjoys playing and helping the children with their piano interests.

After school, Catherine usually plays volleyball or tennis. This year she is captain of a basketball team. John is a regular member of the school baseball team and is also quite active in the Boy Scouts. Julie, who is also a Girl Scout, is most interested in anything to do with natural sciences. She likes camping out with her sleeping bag, and collecting insects and snakes.

Dinner is the one "sit-down" meal of the day, when the busy family gathers for mutual exchange of news. In the evening, they all participate in the family ping-pong tournament staged in a downstairs rumpus room. So far, Kirby is the family champion, but son John is a close rival. He says he could beat his father if only he didn't have to do homework and could practice more.

For relaxation, Kirby enjoys these family games, or just sitting and talking with his friends. Well-known for their informal hospitality, the Kirby's often have drop-in company. "After looking at legal documents and law books all day, my husband wants to be with people, not read, when he comes home, says Mrs. Kirby.

Each youngster is given a basic allowance plus additional money in proportion for services rendered over and above daily chores. Allowances must cover school lunches, shows, gifts, and church and club donations. The children do not have to account for the money they spend. Mrs. Kirby says "the only way they will learn the value of money is by handling it themselves. If they spend it foolishly, they will deprive themselves of something they want later. We try to encourage independence in our children." And her husband add, "we don't like to pry into their lives. If they want to tell us something, we welcome it. But if we ask them something they don't want us to know, we would only encourage untruthfulness."

The cheerful faces of all the family—even Susy's wagging tail—show that the system works. Their cooperativeness and congeniality as a family are no accident, but the result of a happy marriage and wise parenthood.

Kirkwood Lists Reasons For Re-election

Robert C. Kirkwood, Saratoga orchardist and veteran legislator, is candidate for re-election from the 29th district to his fourth term in the State Assembly. During the current recess he is active on three interim committees, preparing studies on water resources, welfare, and state education, which will be the basis of important legislation in the next session.

Kirkwood's political beliefs and accomplishments can be measured by his activity on the following Assembly committees:

RULES

The Assembly's most important, governing committee, to which Kirkwood was elected by the highest vote of fellow-legislators after the fight to make it elective rather than appointed by the Speaker.

WAYS AND MEANS

Kirkwood has served four years on this committee, which controls all budget and appropriation bills. At the last session he was its leading member in preparing the mental hygiene budget, in school matters, and in enlarging the state highway patrol as a safety measure.

WATER PROBLEMS

On this joint Senate-Assembly interim committee, Kirkwood is the only Northern California assembly member. It is now preparing studies of crucial concern to the next legislature, notably the feasibility of the state recovering control of its water resources from the federal government.

EDUCATION

Kirkwood carried the state's education program in the last legislature, developing substantial assistance to all school districts and particularly to impoverished districts so that every child would have equal opportunity. Legislation he sponsored is also calculated to assist the county property tax payer by shifting some of the school burden to a broader base. He leads the joint interim finance committee which is preparing a comprehensive study of the State's educational program and its support.

Kirkwood's guiding principles are revealed by his community and legislative accomplishments:

(1) Strengthening government at all levels so that control can be as close as possible to the citizens concerned. Kirkwood served on the 1946 intergovernmental council of this county which produced the Rosa Street governmental site in San Jose where federal, state, county and city agencies will hereafter be housed and interrelated. He also led the county's 1948 and 1950 campaigns that won the home-rule charter for Santa Clara county.

(2) Promoting honest and efficient government by freeing its branches from the pressure of undesirable elements. Kirkwood was chief sponsor of anti-lobby legislation in the 1950 legislature, and of changes in Assembly rules in the last session to make that body more self-governing and independent.

CAMPBELL WILL LONG REMEMBER M. J. BOLLINGER, PIONEERS' SON

The community of Campbell has lost, in the recent death of M. J. Bollinger, one of its most integral members. He will be remembered, not only as a citizen of real responsibility and as an esteemed friend, but as one of the creators of Campbell. He has left a heritage both tangible and intangible to his native town.

A part of Campbell's genesis is told in the story of Mr. Bollinger's parents, John and Mary Bollinger, who came to Campbell from Missouri in 1864. It was the second trip west for John, who had journeyed during the Gold Rush to the Santa Clara Valley and found it good. With his wife and their already sizeable family he decided to return and establish a home here.

John Bollinger was of Pennsylvania Dutch stock. He brought to Campbell the family Bible, bound in buckskin, with records of several generations, extending back to the time when the Bollingers emigrated from Germany. The Bible is still with the family, though its earliest handwriting is almost illegible with age.

Mary Hohn Bollinger was Missouri-born, and perhaps it was because her roots were deep in Missouri soil that she and John dug up an oak tree and placed it, with the earth still clinging to it, in a trunk which they brought all the way across the plains in their prairie schooner. Many a pioneer lightened his wagon on the desolate stretches of rough country. Whether the Bollingers did so is not known, but certainly the Missouri oak was not jettisoned. It grows today, a huge and stately tree, on the Bollinger ranch. A member of the family lately visited Missouri and saw to his surprise that the oaks there are mere scrub oaks compared with the one that John and Mary transplanted to California soil.

A grandfather clock, now probably two centuries old, also made the journey behind the ox team. It is traditionally bequeathed to the youngest son in each generation; so M. J. Bollinger was its possessor, and it is now owned by Byron Bollinger.

A double-barrelled muzzle loader shotgun and a muzzle loader rifle made the trip and are still on the old home place. Three powder horns and several ladder-back chairs, as well, remain of the covered wagon's cargo.

The trip was not uneventful. One of the little girls, a pretty blond, attracted the attention of Indians, who offered to make a trade for her. Nevertheless, the old muzzle loaders were never fired at Indians as far as is known, and this information has been a great disappointment to John's and Mary's great grandchildren, who cherish the old firearms with their wooden rods.

John and Mary purchased eighty acres in the vicinity of the present railroad crossing of Los Gatos Road. They built their house and set about farming in mid-western style, with livestock and fields of corn and pumpkins, in addition to a large prune orchard. They donated to the community the site for the old Hamilton School, which stood next to their home.

The family was soon complete with eleven children, Frances, Barbara, Sarah, Mathilda, Mary, Clara, Rachel, John, James and Moses Jacob. The youngest born October 24, 1872, was to live nearly eighty years in the house of his nativity, to raise his children there and to see them settled with their families near the old home.

M. J. Bollinger bought sixteen acres of the original ranch. The rest was sold after the death of his parents, who both lived past the age of ninety.

On July 11, 1907, Mr. Bollinger married Miss Maybel Himan, a native San Josean, who lived on Virginia Avenue in Campbell, and on Downing Avenue at the time of her wedding. The bride's father had crossed the plains from Missouri at the age of six; his father, Ephan Himan, was a schoolteacher whose life has since become the subject of a novel.

Mr. Bollinger bought a very smart new buggy and a team of horses for the wedding trip into the San Joaquin Valley.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Bollinger are Mrs. Werner Raab, who is a teacher at Moreland School; Mrs. L. W. Brown, who lives next door to the Bollinger home, and Byron Bollinger, who is Superintendent of Grounds and Buildings at San Jose State College.

A family reunion is held the first Sunday in May each year, when from 250 to 300 descendants of John and Mary Bollinger gather together. M. J. Bollinger had missed only one reunion before his demise. The regular reunion this year was held three days after his passing. Of his brothers and sisters only one remains, Mrs. Frances Bollinger, 93, of Madera. (Her husband was of the same name coincidently; he was not related to the Bollingers of Campbell.) Another sister, Mrs. Mary Brown of Campbell, passed away last year.

Mr. Bollinger is survived by his wife, his three children and nine grandchildren.

Cambrian Appliance store, 611 S. San Jose-Los Gatos Avenue, was the victim, when a rear door was forced for entry and three automatic washers, an electric dryer and an ironer were stolen, according to the sheriff's office. The washers weighed 200 pounds each.

The other burglarized store was Cambrian Cleaners, located next door. Clerks said nothing appeared to be missing from the firm.

An Open LETTER!

From a San Jose housewife and mother of five children.

DEAR FELLOW CITIZENS:

In Saturday's San Jose News there was a statement made by Robert C. Doerr, a candidate for Assemblyman from the 29th District that I would like to comment on. Mr. Doerr made some remarks that are not only erroneous but downright unjust.

Mr. Doerr is against exempting parochial schools from taxation.

I grant him his right to his own opinion. However, I dislike his misrepresenting the facts.

Mr. Doerr says, "The parochial schools tax question is a major issue only if Mr. McEnery insists on making it one."

How any man, aspiring to public office in California today, can make such a statement is beyond me.

The parochial school issue is one of, if not the biggest, major issues in this election.

It is of such importance that the group seeking to have parochial schools taxed have spent thousands and thousands of dollars to gain their end. They paid solicitors to secure names to a petition to have this question put on the ballot. These solicitors went from door to door, flagrantly misrepresenting the true facts to induce people to sign. Many signatures on that petition today would never be there, had the solicitors not misrepresented the facts.

So it is far from a SMALL issue, believe me. Governor Earl Warren signed a bill granting parochial school exemption. But the opposition whose motives are far from patriotic, spent a fabulous sum to try to defeat this bill.

Mr. Doerr says, "I have always believed that a firm separation of church and state is one of the cornerstones on which our great democracy is built."

There is absolutely no tie in between the question of separation of church and state and this issue. Does Mr. Doerr smugly believe that only in California is there a separation of church and state? After all, California has the dubious honor of being the ONLY state in the whole United States to tax private, non-profit schools.

I too, firmly believe in separation of church and state. But I abhor those who use this noble ideal as it was never intended to be used. Those who climb up on this lofty stand and use it as a sniper's post.

I never want to see any church dominate my country. Nor, as exists in many countries today, do I want to see any country dominate my church.

Was it not Christ who said, "Render unto Caesar that which belongs to Caesar and to God that which belongs to God"?

Mr. Doerr says, "My long service in the public school system, a system which is paid for by all Americans and available to all Americans, regardless of race, creed or color, has been because of this belief."

I fail to see the connection between this issue and his motive for entering the teaching profession. I would rather like to think that he was motivated by an inborn love of working with our young men and women.

He is right when he says ALL Americans pay for the public school system. So, is it not rather unjust then, that parents desirous of educating their children in parochial schools (and willingly assuming the added expense to do so) should be taxed twice for school buildings?

I have five children, two are in public schools, three are in parochial schools. I pay taxes, as does Mr. Doerr, for public school maintenance. I willingly pay for parochial schooling. Should I again be taxed for parochial school buildings that have never cost my fellow tax payers a dollar? In fact, these very buildings actually save millions of dollars for California taxpayers. Just stop now and imagine the terrific building program the taxpayers would have to be burdened with, if these parochial schools were to be replaced. Then add, too, the personnel and maintenance costs.

Mr. Doerr says, "I also believe in the right of any dissenting minority to set up its own additional, or even separate system of schools, provided it does not attempt to do so at the expense of the people as a whole."

This brazen statement has me boiling mad. I am not a "dissenting minority." I firmly believe in separation of church and state. Those who maintain the parochial schools emphatically believe in it, too.

Also where is "the attempt to do so at the expense of the people as a whole?" The parochial school supporters are not asking Mr. Doerr or any other taxpayers, for one single cent. They ask only that they not be taxed unjustly. If Mr. Doerr means what he says, "provided it does not attempt to do so at the expense of the people as a whole," then he should certainly see that parochial schools, erected and maintained by private funds, add no burden or expense to the people as a whole.

As for availability to "all Americans regardless of race, creed or color," I assume Mr. Doerr to be unaware that parochial schools are always available to all, regardless of race, creed or color. It is not at all unusual for children of other denominations to attend parochial school.

I have no fixation against public schools. It is only within the past two years that any of my children attended parochial school. In fact, it was my privilege, as well as honor, to be elected to, and serve on the school committee in my home town prior to my moving to California.

Why do I send my children to parochial school? Because I want them to learn to love and serve their God and their Country. This they are taught daily. My children at parochial school start each day with the salute to the flag of the United States.

Some day they may be called upon to fight and perhaps die for that flag. They will respect and serve it then because they are being taught to do so now.

I know it's not considered very modern nor ultra-ultra to have such simple beliefs as love of God and Country. But I can't help but believe that this world wouldn't be in such a terrible, heart-sickening state today if more men would return to the simple beliefs of our fore-fathers. Especially those men who are in politics and hold positions of trust.

It was my intention to support Mr. Doerr in the coming election, for I had believed him to be a progressive, liberal man. I can't believe that a progressive, liberal man would take such an unfair, unjust stand as he has taken in this issue. My one vote will never make or break Mr. Doerr, but I am an American (of Catholic faith) and am entitled to my one vote.

I hope all true, fair minded Americans ("regardless of race, creed or color") will exercise their right to vote on this very important question.

Sincerely yours,
(Mrs.) HELEN L. PERCY

O'DOWD K OF C HEAR GUBSER AT MEETING

Knights of Columbus and their friends of Bishop O'Dowd Council enjoyed an evening of entertainment Monday, May 26 at St. Mary's Hall, Los Gatos. Featured speaker of the evening was Congressional candidate Charles Gubser. His talk on the forthcoming referendum bill on the November ballot was very well received. Other speakers were Rev. Father Doherty, K.C. chaplain, and Rev. Father Geary of Sacred Heart Parish, Saratoga.

Rev. Father Kennelly of St. Lucy's was unavoidably detained and could not be present. Warren Wilkie, 29th Assembly District candidate was introduced.

WEDDING IN OFFING

A September wedding is in the offing for two Campbell Union High school graduates, JANICE BULLER and MICHELE CHIECHI. Janice's parents, Mr. and Mrs. DAVID H. BULLER of San Jose, announced the betrothal at a party in their home. The bride-to-be is employed in San Jose, and her fiance is attending San Jose State college.

WARREN R. WILKIE ANSWERS QUERIES CONCERNING 29TH DISTRICT PROBLEMS

Warren R. Wilkie, candidate for the 29th Assembly District, answered questions concerning problems faced by the 29th district which show his comprehensive analysis of the situation.

In response to his proposals about the water problem in the 29th district, Wilkie agreed that the eight-point program of the San Jose Chamber of Commerce appears to be the most intelligent approach to the problem. He advocates developing all possible local sources and then finding the best sources of outside facilities.

Wilkie said the major problem appears to be financing in the need for increased public school facilities. He said he thought the large increase of homes and subsequent increase in taxable property values would eventually balance the costs of these schools Each community should pay its own way for its own schools, he said. The more homes and more business establishments that appear in our growing subdivisions, the more revenue to the state and county.

Question: What is to be done about highway safety in California as a whole and in your district (the 29th) in particular, and how will this program be financed?

Answer: I would want to see at least a four-lane highway on the present 3-lane Monterey Highway in the 29th district. It should be indented with left turn channels providing a safe wait-and-turn space for drivers crossing the opposite lane. I don't think we have approached the need for the terrifically expensive overpass and underpass system we see further up the Bayshore towards San Francisco, but we must get rid of all three-lane highways, not only in our district, but throughout the state. Financing must come from automobile and truck owners that use these highways, and the gasoline companies that supply fuel, tires and supplies. Set up the gas and auto license charges to balance the costs of maintaining and building the highways. Pro-rate the costs to the units benefiting from the improvements.

Wilkie in a series of questions and answers, stated he believed the state should own and control the Central Valley project rather than the federal government. He said that if we can get additional federal money without sacrificing state rights and state control, he would be in favor of such proposals.

In the matter of alleviating flood conditions, Wilkie advocated better drainage before new tracts are built and water-absorbing orchards are declared out by County engineers.

"This is My Platform"

CHARLES S. GUBSER

THE Officially Endorsed ★ CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS

To the Citizens of the 10th Congressional District:

I submit herewith the principles upon which I stand in my candidacy to be your Representative in the Congress of the United States. They will guide my activities as I vigorously serve all legitimate interests of all residents of Santa Clara, Santa Cruz and San Benito Counties, the State of California, and the United States.

LOCAL CONTROL

I believe that as much government as possible must be returned to local control, under the direct eye of citizens most concerned. We have seen what happens when we push our problems upstairs. It has given us a wasteful confusion of Washington bureaus that now presume to stand above Congress and our courts.

HONESTY IN GOVERNMENT

Corruption comes with the growth of a topheavy bureaucracy, irresponsible to the individual citizen. I favor continuous and vigilant investigation to root out and punish dishonesty, wherever found, together with government reorganization. We must protect the good name and morale of our many faithful servants, as well as the interests of the conscientious citizen and taxpayer.

TAX REDUCTION

I will work continuously for the reduction of federal taxes, particularly assisting every move to squeeze out the ten billion dollars wasted annually by an overblown bureaucracy. I will continue to work for adoption of the Hoover Commission's proposals for reorganizing executive departments, which alone would save five billion dollars annually.

BALANCED BUDGET

Federal deficit financing is a chief source of our inflation. I will work for all measures to restore the federal budget to an even keel. We must continue to develop our military strength, but in doing so we must insist that all Washington bureaus take a big tuck in their belts.

HUMANITARIAN GOVERNMENT

Relief for citizens on fixed incomes, who are squeezed between the inflationary spiral and mounting taxes, will be a primary concern of mine in Congress. My work on the Assembly's committee on Revenue and Taxation, and Efficiency and Economy, convince me that federal bureaucratic waste and muddling is a principal enemy of humanitarian government.

WELFARE AND PENSIONS

Aid for the needy and handicapped is primarily a State obligation. In Congress I will work, as I have in the Legislature, to equalize the tax load, to eliminate unnecessary administrative duplication, and to reduce inflationary pressures of "big government" which deprive both the needy and the taxpayer of maximum returns from welfare programs.

I believe that social security eligibility requirements are too limited under the present value of the dollar and will work for their modification. At the same time I will protect the integrity of social security reserves, to which most citizens have contributed as a form of retirement insurance. These funds must be protected from irresponsible demagogues and from those who would use them as a grab-bag for deficit financing.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS

History has forced world leadership upon us. We must face that fact with military and moral strength. We must maintain our national sovereignty in world affairs, just as we must regain sovereignty for the individual citizen in national affairs. I will earnestly work for the restoration of a bi-partisan foreign policy based upon clearly stated principles and an end to secret agreements. I favor military and economic assistance to other nations to the degree they demonstrate willingness to develop their own strength within the society of free nations.

NATIONAL DEFENSE

I will support development and maintenance of a strong military establishment to cope with any threat of the communist world. But I will be vigilant against all waste disguised with the name of "defense." I favor the report of the House Armed Services Committee which indicates a saving of five billion dollars is now possible without endangering our preparedness program.

LABOR RELATIONS

Collective bargaining between labor and management is a cornerstone of my thinking on labor problems, with government acting only as a mediator when necessary. Labor will lose its freedom along with management if government exceeds that role. I believe the Taft-Hartley law is sound legislation, to be amended if inequities develop in its use.

AGRICULTURE

Farm subsidies are wrong in principle. Where agriculture cannot sustain itself I favor the fair parity program of the general character proposed by the American Farm Bureau Federation.

WATER RESOURCES

I favor development of water resources at the most local level of control that is practicable. Because it is California's most basic resource, I will work to restore to the State the control of the Central Valleys Project. Flood control of navigable streams, I believe, properly belongs under the U. S. Army Engineers. I think it is time to put an end to inter-bureaucratic squabbles and duplications in the development of our water resources.

FREE ENTERPRISE

I will support any constructive legislation that takes the federal government out of business. I oppose the unfair competition of government with private business, when the government is not even subject to the same laws. As a farmer and a small businessman, I favor encouragement of private initiative. I will actively oppose any measure or any pressure group which seeks to deny the individual the opportunity to improve himself, or seeks to place its interests above those of the majority.

Faithfully,

Charles S. Gubser

Charlie Gubser is a third generation row-crop farmer of Gilroy where he was born 36 years ago. He worked his way through San Jose State College and the University of California, where he took two years of post-graduate work in the fields of economics, political science and education. He taught for four years in the Gilroy Union High School, while actively managing and working the family farm.

Charlie's leadership in valley farm organizations led to wider public life when in 1948 he was elected a County Freeholder and vigorously assisted in preparing Santa Clara County's home-rule charter, a model in the nation. He also owned and managed drive-in theaters near Gilroy and Tracy from 1947 to 1951, and learned at first hand the problems of small business.

It is significant that in moving up in legislative government, with his ambition to return the maximum of government business to the most local control possible, he has helped to strengthen each level of government to receive that return of power to the citizens most concerned.

After helping prepare the new county charter, he was elected to the State Assembly in 1950 by the county's southern district. He has served a vigorous and outstanding term of accomplishment for his district and the state, both on the floor of the Assembly and as a hard-working member of its committees on agriculture, revenue and taxation, and government efficiency and economy. He acted quickly and successfully on calls from his district, and at the same time led the notable fight for state development of Feather River water resources, with benefits for this district, in the face of powerful opposition. He helped lay the ground work for the legislature's coming battle to recover state control of California's resources from the grasp of federal bureaucracy.

While at the University of California, Charlie married the former Joan Brimberry. With their 11-year old daughter, Marcia, they live in Gilroy, in a new home, which Charlie built himself. Between campaign appearances, Charlie supervises the 150 acres of rich bottom land he has planted to row crops.

Charlie Gubser was the logical and most qualified candidate to represent the new Tenth District, when the Congressional seat fell vacant this year. That was the decision of the District-wide Citizens Committee of 150, formed to review the qualifications all candidates for Congress. The screening committee interviewed all interested candidates, weighed carefully their qualifications . . . and gave Gubser a majority of the votes cast on every ballot . . . strictly on the basis of ability and merit.

Pfeifle Backers Predict Win In June Primaries

Campaign headquarters of William S. Pfeifle, candidate for Congress and Chairman of Santa Clara County Board of Supervisors, today predicted Pfeifle would win the Republican nomination at the Primaries June 3.

Pfeifle, who has received the recommendation of retiring Congressman Jack S. Anderson, is a veteran of South Pacific fighting with the Marine Corps and has served on the Santa Clara County Board of Supervisors since 1948.

His political philosophy closely parallelling that of Anderson, Pfeifle is an advocate of social security reform to remove present restrictions on the earnings of those who receive social security benefits.

Pfeifle further advocates a deadline for the present stalemated Korean Truce Talks.

Urging that Congress discard the present system of considering estimates for budget purposes, Pfeifle has declared he would favor a law compelling Federal departments to submit documented costs In this way Congress could actually determine the amount of money necessary to run the government.

Pfeifle, 33 years of age, lives with his wife and two daughters in San Jose. He is a graduate of the University of California, and since the war has been prominent in public and civic affairs. He was elected Chairman of the Santa Clara County Board of Supervisors in 1951 and re-elected to the post in January of this year.

Bruce Allen Lists Platform For Benefit Of Voters

Bruce F. Allen, 35-year-old San Jose attorney and civic leader, is candidate for the county's southern 29th district Assembly seat. He has bipartisan support and the formal endorsement of Republican organizations, including the county central committee.

A third-generation San Josean, Allen grew up on his father's Cupertino and Coyote farms, graduated from Santa Clara high school, attended San Jose State college and worked his way through University of California in political science and law, standing second in his law class on graduation in 1940.

Five years of war service followed, with Allen rising from private to captain in the field artillery, in which he continues to hold a reserve commission.

Launching his interrupted legal career after the war, Allen gained quick recognition throughout Santa Clara county for his hard work in community betterment. He won the second highest national award for his leadership of county support for the Hoover Commission report to reorganize federal bureaus. The San Jose Junior Chamber of Commerce recently named him "director of the year" for his direction of its public affairs and Americanization programs for two years.

His fundamental belief, guiding decisions on all issues, is that government must be brought back to the most local control possible, to insure maximum return of tax dollars in service, with that service judged by the citizen for whom it is provided.

Allen pledges full support for school and highway development for a county whose population is doubling by the decade. He favors maximum local conservation for water supplies and flood control, with outside water provided as needed from the nearest and cheapest sources. He believes in adequate aid for the needy and the encouragement of private initiative and enterprise.

Local Resident Dies Of Heart Ill

Oville B. Hunt, 61, poultry expert and Campbell resident for the past 12 years found dead in his car last week near Fowler, Calif. is believed to have died from a heart attack.

Hunt lived with his wife at 1080 White Oaks Road. Although a native of Minnesota, they had lived in Los Gatos for four years before coming to Campbell.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Nieva B. Hunt, he is survived by a sister, Mrs. J. S. Hadden of Mount Hermon.

Funeral services were conducted in Los Gatos, followed by interment in Los Gatos Cemetery.

Traffic Costs

It is not good practice to install a new battery in your car without first thoroughly cleaning all terminals with sandpaper or a wire brush, reminds the California State Automobile Association. Unles all corrosion is removed and the connections made clean and secure, further trouble may develop in a short time.

Comedy Programs Most Popular, TV Survey Shows

In a television survey at Moreland school recently conducted by second grade teacher Mrs. Vivian Snow, comedy programs received the most votes when children were asked to name their three favorite programs.

Three hundred eighty ballots were counted in the survey, and a total of 105 programs were mentioned. Of this nmber, general classifications such as comedies, cowboys, sports, cartoons were given, but no particular programs were specified.

Puppet shows were favorites with kindergarten, first, and second graders. Cowboy programs were most popular with second and third grade children.

Red Skelton's program received the most votes. This program was mentioned by all grades from kindergarten to eighth and reached its peak of popularity at fourth and fifth grades. "The Lone Ranger" and "Roy Rogers tied for sixth place.

Following is a list of the ten programs which received the most votes:

Red Skelton	89
Adventure Time	84
Colgate Comedy Hour	70
I Love Lucy	57
Howdy Doody	48
The Lone Ranger	44
Roy Rogers	44
Laurel and Hardy	36
My Friend Irma	33
Time for Beanie	28

Mrs. Snow remarked that teachers' preferences would have been impossible to tell, because so few have television sets.

OFFICER ENLISTS IN GUBSER BAND DURING LEAVE

A young parachute infantry officer visited Gubser-for-Congress headquarters here yesterday to enlist in Charles Gubser's campaign for the duration of his 30-day leave.

He is 1st Lieut. Harvey D. Jordan of the 511th Parachute Infantry Regiment, 11th Airborne Div. awaiting Korean duty, who is visiting his father, Col. Herbert S. Jordan, 11121 Enchante Vista Drive.

"We men in the service want to see men of sound integrity and judgment taking care of our government while we are away," Lieut. Jordan said. "I know Charlie Gubser from our work together before I went back into the service, and I can tell you it made me feel good to find he was running for congress when I returned from training."

Lieutenant Jordan was president of the Santa Clara Republican Assembly before he went back into the service a year ago from San Jose State College. He served two years in the last war. He recently completed airborne training and is stationed at Camp Campbell, Kentucky, at present.

There's a new boy Delamore, David Brian, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Allen Deamore, 10 Christopher Street, who arrived last Tuesday, May 5.

'Family Security' Topic Of Speech Fellowship Day

"Spiritual Security for Today's Families" was the subject of a talk by Mr. Leonard McConnell, Director of the Family Service Association of Santa Clara County, given before an audience of women of all churches at the Campbell Methodist Church on World May Fellowship Day recently.

The work of the Council of Church Women was described in a talk by Mrs. Percy Hincks of Saratoga, who is a state vice-president of the council.

Vocal solos were presented by Mrs. R. W. Matrin, accompanied by Mrs. D. R. Van Rossen. Mrs. Van Rossen also played the offertory.

After the program, tea was served in the church parlors by the ladies of the Methodist Church.

Doerr Campaign Group Selected

Robert C. Doerr, candidate for Assemblyman, 29th District, today announced the formation of a "Doerr for Assembly Committee".

The committee is composed of Earl Moorhead, Torrey Smith, Lewis Clohan, Mr. and Mrs. Namii O. Wagnon, Vernon Swain, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stull, Elmer Mortenson, Mr. and Mrs. James McLoughlin, George Jenett, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Morgan, all of San Jose; Walter Howes, Jack Marsh, L. Ben Howard of Campbell; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Tully of Los Gatos; and Arthur Baxter of Gilroy.

Doerr said that his home at 398 S. 14th Street, San Jose, would serve the committee as headquarters for the campaign. "We do not have the money to be able to afford expensive downtown office space to use as campaign headquarters," Doerr stated.

"Those men and women believe with me that good government is the direct result of a common interest and responsibility of the voting citizen and the public office holder. We will work together in the joint task of building a better California for all to enjoy," Doerr said. "This committee is open to all people in the 29th District who will work toward this goal."

DOERR ASKS SUPPORT IN ASSEMBLY RACE

Dear Friend:

I am asking for your support in my campaign for Assemblyman, 29th District, because of my belief that our District needs strong representation in Sacramento.

The highway system in California must be greatly improved and expanded to meet the increased transportation demands of a growing state. In our own county the Monterey Highway should be widened and divided to a four-lane thoroughfare throughout its full length, and the Route 5 Freeway from Los Gatos through San Jose to Oakland should be rapidly completed. Every possible safety precaution should be installed on the highways and at railroad crossings. I therefore favor enactment of legislation which will provide financial assistance to counties and cities so they may install safety devices and construct essential under or overpasses in cooperation with the railroads in question.

The water needs of Santa Clara Valley must be continuously and intensively studied and met. Since 1946 I have taken an active part in working with the Santa Clara Valley Water Conservation District to build Anderson and Lexington Dams, and I have supported the surveys by State and Federal Governments to bring in outside water. I shall actively continue the fight to develop all local sources of water, and will give all possible assistance to the southern part of Santa Clara County for speedy construction of such projects as the Uvas and Llagas Dams.

Our public schools must be immediately improved and enlarged to meet the present extreme shortage of both classrooms and teachers. The public school system is the very heart and core of our American democracy. The value of public schools in extending and perpetuating the American way of life will be seriously impaired unless we all incessantly work for its continued expansion and growth.

My personal history is briefly this: I am a native San Josean and attended San Jose State College and Stanford University; my father is Fred Doerr, now a retired businessman who served 18 years as a Councilman of the City of San Jose; my teaching career began in 1937 and has been interrupted only once, by serving three years in the United States Army in the Counter Intelligence Corps in Germany; I am married and my family consists of my wife, Jane, my daughter, Susan, and my son, Bobby. Fraternally I am affiliated with the Masonic Lodge, Royal Arch Masons, and Knights Templar.

As a member of the City Council of San Jose I have attempted to put into effect my basic political beliefs; that honesty and independence are possible in politics; that problems should be approached with an open mind and an attempt made to reach conclusions most favorable to the public interest. It is my firm conviction that progress must be constantly pursued, not timidly avoided.

I also believe that good government is the direct result of a common interest and responsibility of the voting citizen and the public office holder. As your Assemblyman from the 29th Assembly District, my office will be open to anyone who will share with me the task of building a better California for all to enjoy.

On these issues I ask you to support and vote for me as your Assemblyman, 29th District, in the Primary Election, June 3, 1952.

Sincerely,

ROBERT C. DOERR

GARDEN TASKS FOR THIS WEEK

Acquaint yourself with sulphur as a controlling agent against mildew, on roses, lilacs, grape vine and garden shrubs.

Check your soil for Iron deficiency, which can be controlled by the addition of a sulphur-manure mixture.

Water and feeding of your plants will reward you later in the summer with lovely blooms.

Don't forget your weekly or bi-monthly spray and dusting to keep these pests from enjoying your flowers and garden before you do!

Pinch back the tip growth in Chrysanthemums.

Check your nurseries for the begonias, and Azaleas now. Azaleas should be planted now for fall blooming.

'ICE PLANT' EASIER TO GROW THAN TO PRONOUNCE NAME

By LUCILLE BARNES

Today we take up nature's "Cold Fire" plant, the Mesambryanthemum, otherwise known as the Ice Plant. The beauty of this succulent is well known in this region and loved by all for the little amount of care required to raise them.

Cliffs and roadside alike benefit by the tough wiry stems and puffy leaves, a mass of lovely bloom in the summer and a soil holding mate grasping the drifting sand dune and roadside soil alike, preventing erosion and keeping the lovely hillsides intact. This is the job of the Ice Plant, and it enjoys it no end.

The Mesambryanthemum is a succulent, and as such requires very little water and if given too much (in the home garden) rot sets in and we have a plant unhappy in its home. The succulent is a frugal plant with its water supply. Requiring little and using each tiny little drop for the precious thing it is.

When the rains come in the fall of the year, these plants fill up their hollow leaves and then, closing up their thirsty mouths, guard this precious fluid against evaporation to be used in the coming months of dry and sunny weather.

The whole plant is made up for the protection of its little reservoir of water. The leaves of the plant are hollow and very thick, thus creating an insulated oblong cup to keep the water cool and prevent absorption.

The interested gardener may get these plants from seed, by cuttings, taking the new tip growth, letting it dry in the sun for a few days and then sticking it in the ground where he wishes it to grow. It should be kept damp, but caution should be exercised to prevent over-watering. Rot may set in.

The unexpected explosion of color from the gray mass of upraised fingers should make each and every one of us want at least a few touches of this wondrous plant in our gardens. The "Cold Fire" plant of the earth, the ever luminous Ice Plant, imported from Africa, has come into its own in the sloping dunes and byways of colorful California.

Next week, we'll talk about the care and planting of our aristocratic geranium, the "Pelargoniums."

WHAT TO PLANT – WHEN TO PLANT IT

Do you want flowers in July, August and September. Plan annuals.

June plantings make folwers fir late summer and early fall.

SUGGESTIONS:

ANNUALS — Ageratum, Marigolds, Snapdragons, Flowering flax, Zinnia, Four o'clock, Cosmos, Imperial Stock, Petunia, Larkspur, Blue Lace Flower, Flowering Phlox, Nasturtiums.

PERENNIALS — Begonia Semper Florens, Gaillardia, Scabiosa, Shasta Daisy, Asters, Poppies, Chrysanthemum cuttings, Scarlet Sage.

Irish Moss

For something a little different and in good taste for your parking strip, try Irish Moss. You have seen it between paving stones in patios. It spreads nicely, forming a fresh green mat, thick and mossy. Some prefer Lippia grass because it asks for so little care — no mowing, very little water—and grows in sun or shade, producing charming blossoms. A front lawn planted to Lippia could be attractively continued into the parking area. Small annuals or perennials, or slow growing shrubs may also be used.

Maintaining Lawns Secret Of Beauty, Say Homeowners

A lawn reflects the attention you give it. Experts pass on some helpful hints for the homeowner in maintaining a lawn so you can enjoy its use and beauty year-after-year.

WATERING

Early morning waterings will normally give the best results. Good soakings regularly once or twice each week will force the roots to go deep for water and thus provide a larger area from which to draw nourishment. (More frequent waterings may be necessary in extremely hot weather.) Too frequent, light sprinklings on established lawns encourage surface weeds and cause the grass to develope shallow roots. For easier watering and more even coverage, the use of set sprinklers is recommended.

MOWING

For established lawns, the mower should be set to cut at from 1 to 1½ inches. Shorter cuttings expose the roots to the sun, causing oil moisture to evaporate rapidly, and encouraging weed growth. It may be advantageous to leave a reasonable amount of clippings on the lawn, but heavy clippings should be removed.

FERTILIZING

Fertilizer should be applied at least once each year. On poor quality soils it may be necessary to make two or three applications per year. Either pulverized cow or sheep manure is satisfactory, provided it is relatively free from weed seeds. Commercial fertilizers, when used according to instructions, will prove satisfactory. The fertilizer should be wattered into the ground to prevent burning of the grass blades and also to make it more readily available to the plants.

WEEDS

Certain chemicals, now on the market, make it possible to eliminate practically all of the broad-leaved weeds found in lawns. 2-4D is probably the most widely known of these new weed killers. It may be purchased under various trade names. Read instructions carefully and use only as directed.

People of genuine culture are equally at ease and equally welcome in the cottages of the poor and the palaces of the mighty.

SIMPLE LAWNS ARE BETTER, SAY EXPERTS

Simplicity is beauty. We no longer clutter our lawns with iron deer, crowded flower beds and intricate paths. Modern homes have smooth lawns unbroken by plantings except for a tree or two or some specimen shrub. A specimen shrub is one with some unusual appearance. Sometimes it has silvery or reddish foliage, or bright berries, or a striking shape.

The best lawn, then, according to experts, is a more or less unbroken, open center, accented by a special shrub or tree, and losing itself in the line of shrubs or other plants massed against the foundation of the house.

DAHLIA BULBS SHOULD BE SET IN SOIL NOW

Now is the time to plant dahlias, according to Campbell garden experts. Last Tuesday was the ideal date, but anytime this week is just about right.

To plant, spade ground at least 18 inches deep, pulverizing the soil until it is very fine. Place bulb three inches deep in the loose soil, leaving a three-inch hollow. Place a stake alongside the eye of the bulb. Later the depression in the soil can be filled in with dirt.

Stir the ground around the bulb so it can breath. The ground should be kept damp, but not wet while it is still young.

When it has grown high enough to have several sets of leaves on the stem, pinch off the top to make it bushy and strong.

When it is growing, it needs plenty of water, but it likes the ground cultivated throughly after watering. Tie the bush to the stake with raffia.

When buds appear, pinch off the topmost. When the buds start to swell, put plant food around it, following the directions given on the package.

When aphis bothers the plants, spray with nicotine sulphate solution. This keeps it healthy and strong.

When it is in full bloom, cut off the biggest and best, trim the lower leaves, plunge the stem into hot water for a minute and then cold water and enter it in the nearest Campbell flower show.

PICNIC TO BE HELD

Annual picnic of the Country Woman's Club will be held June 2 at Alum Rock Park, according to a spokesman.

Members are asked to phone Mrs. Anna Hedegard, 3485, or Mrs. Ira Grim, 2453, for information.

Moreland Scouts Receive Awards

Moreland girl scouts and brownies will hold their first neighborhood-basis Court of Awards this evening at the Moreland School. More than eighty members plan to participate in the ceremonies of presentation and in the bonfire sing to follow.

Awards will be made in the school auditorium by honored guest Mrs. Eileen Langwill, District Chairman of Girl Scouts. Also honored will be Mrs. Ruth Langen, president of the Moreland P.T.A. unit, who has served in scout work for five years.

Mrs. Harold C. Easterbrook, Neighborhood Chairman of Girl Neighborhood Chairman of Brown-Scouts, and Mrs. Richard Owens, ies, will be in charge of the evening's program.

Troop 177, youngest of Moreland's brownie groups, will be invested, and Troop 138 will be presented with world pins, while Troop 111 will "fly up" into scouting.

Girl Scout Troop 150 will receive second class badges; Troop 17 will be awarded world pins, and Troop 90, of the seventh and eigth grades, will gain proficiency badges. Three girls of Troop 90, Lenore Cefalu, Carolyn Harp and Ruth Phillips, will be presented with first class badges, each of which is earned by the possession of twelve proficiency badges and signifies outstanding achievement.

GUILD MEETS

The 1815 Cleveland Avenue, San Jose, home of Mrs. L. Widmann, was the setting for the monthly meeting of the Children's Service Guild held Monday, May 19, at 1 p.m.

Mrs. Widmann served dessert short business meeting was conducted by Mrs. C. C. Chamberlain, president of the group.

Plans for summer months will also be discussed.

EISENHOWER BACKERS ASK VOTERS TO ENDORSE WARREN DELEGATION

The Eisenhower Volunteers of Northern and Southern California, the official affiliates of the national organization campaigning for the presidential candidacy of Dwght D. Eisenhower are committed to the conviction that the interest of California and of the Republican party will best be served by the election of the slate of delegates pledged to Governor Earl Warren in California's June 3rd primary. There follows excerpts from a statement by the Eisenhower volunteers of northern California as issued Wednesday, May 21, by William A. Hewitt, president.

The Werdel group, an anti-Warren delegation has tried to secure the interest and votes of citizens favoring Eisenhower in the June 3rd primary. The inference has been made that if citizens desire to assure the nomination of Eisenhower, they should vote for the Werdel slate of delegates. We denounce the unauthorized use of Eisenhower's name by the Wardel group, and we refute the claim that to vote for Eisenhower, Californians should vote for the Werdel delegates in the June 3rd primary.

Therefore, the executive committees of the Eisenhower Volunteers for northern and southern California believe that:

1. The Werdel group is primarily, if not solely interested in undermining Governor Earl Warren's leadership of California's Republican party, and in no sense a "free" delegation.

2. It is illogical to contemplate the Werdel delegation casting California's support to Eisenhower since most of its members are outspokenly pro-Taft.

3. California has had the benefit of an outstanding administration under the leadership of Governor Warren. It is to the best interest of California that his leadership of the Republican party in this State should not be undermined.

4. We urge all Californians supporting the candidacy of Dwight Eisenhower to ignore the unauthorized association of Eisenhower's name with the Werdel anti-Warren campaign; to recognize the leadership Earl Warren has given California, and to help assure continuation of that leadership by repudiating the Werdel group.

We therefore urge the election of the Warren delegation to represent California at the Republican National Convention, believing that at the appropriate time, these delegates will heed the will of the people of the United States and cast their 70 votes for Dwight Eisenhower.

Measure your success by the improvement you make in this world as a place in which to live rather than by the quantity of its goods you acquire for other people to squabble over when you are gone.
